

As specialists in land and vineyard brokerage for the wine industry, we've developed our own in-house software for locating, tracking and managing available properties, whether they are currently active on the market or MLS (highlighted light blue), have owners who have expressed an interest in selling or leasing (burgundy), and even those properties that have recently sold (white), useful for comparable sales analysis.

Our underlying database allows us to assist our clients by searching for properties based on a number of property specifications, such as its appellation, zoning or soils series. With a single click of the mouse, we can overlay important information like Slope, Aspect or Elevation maps for any selected property. This type of Data Mapping gives us an advantage at locating hard-to-find properties for vineyard development.

The result is a vineyard site acquisition mapping system that we believe is unmatched in the industry.
